CARNIVAL OF CRIME.

In Twenty-four Hours Six Men Shot or Stabbed.

TWO OF THEM WERE KILLED AT ONCE Sergeant Kenney Exonerated for Shooting Elwood Reid.

DETAILS OF THE CASES.

Yesterday was a carnival of crime in the full acceptance of the word in this neighborhood. Murders, cutting affrays, shootings in self defense and mysterious crimes fell upon the police like hailstones. As a result of the outburst two dead men lie at the morgue, two more victims are in a precarious condition, while several other persons are suffering more or less from injuries. The most horrible crime in its features was a killing near Tenleytown.

Thomas Matthews, colored, was shot and cut at about 1 o'clock yesterday morning on the Broad Branch road, near Rock Creek ford, death resulting almost immediately. Three hours later John Ellsworth, shoemaker, white, who resides in the vicinity, was arrested by Officers Riley and Hartman and charged with the commission of the The arrest was based upon the knowledge that the two men had been seen together just prior to the shooting, that they were under the influence of liquor, that they were quarreling, and last, that that they were quarreling, and last, that Shoemaker a short time after called at the house of Mrs. Helen Keifer and requested the loan of a gun, saying that he had reason to fear burglars. Also that a hat recognized as one that had been worn by him was found near the scene of the killing. Further than this, two men who were with Matthews at the time of the last meeting report that there are him to be seen that the state of the last meeting Matthews at the time of the last meeting report that they saw him raise the gun to his shoulder and take aim. They fied, leaving the covered one behind. A moment later came the shot and death cry.

In the spot where it had fallen the body was found a little later by the officers, who were notified of the crime. The dead man was carried to the home of his mother and then began the hunt for the alleged shooter, Shoemaker. He was found at his residence.

Shoemaker. He was found at his residence sleeping off the effects of his drunk and apparently unconscious of the deed he had but a short time before committed.

John Shoemaker is a well-connected citizen of Tenleytown, a plasterer by trade and has borne a good reputation. He is twentynine years of age.

When the strap was opened the colored man became very nervous and managed to turn. Witness, said to him. "It wonder if turn. Witness said to him, "I wonder it you haven't a pistol in your pocket."

He then darted out the door and ran, and Sergeant Kenney fired one shot to intimi-date him.

Winess said that the negro ran toward the high wooden fence, and he (witness) knew that the only way to catch him was to "wing him." That was why witness pulled out his revolver. He saw the colored man fumbling in his pocket, and just as he grabbed him he heard the sergeant remak: "Oh, my God," and fired. The man dropped his penknife in the tree box, and witness lowered him to the ground.

in Interesting Lot of Cases on the Docket.

Next Monday the United States Supreme Court will begin its October term. The call of the docket, which has been reduced to 1.025 cases, as against 1.183 cases last year, through the weeding-out process of the new court of appeals, will not begin until Tuesday, as the first day of the term is always occupied by a call upon the Presiient. The diminution of cases on the docket is a source of great pleasure to the nembers of the court, who hope in a very few years to so clear up the dockets that they will have nothing but current business on hand at all times.

The fight is wholly between the democrats and populists, the republicans taking no part in the struggle whatever. That the populists are making a good fight it is idle to dispute. The democratic leaders concede the fact that the third party advocates are making impressions upon the voters.

The democratic managers admit that the financial question is embarrassing their party in this campaign. It is often difficult for the state committee to make assignment of speakers on this account. Some state, while thoroughly loyal to their party nominees, and intending to support the whole ticket, are opposed to its position on finance. This afforded his democratic opponent law. This afforded his democratic opponent an opportunity to get back at him. Many of the colored leaders are proclaiming in favor of the democrats.

The greatest populist strength lies in the tidewater and south side, two of the largest black belts in Virginia. Parts of the first district, which is comprised in tidewater, are admittedly very close. In the thirty-ninth Senatorial district, for instance, the democrats have little heaftesten in say.

The colored voters are said to be quite in-different as to the success of either side. This apathy will be watched with inter-

Another senatorial contest of interes will be that in the district comprising Petersburg, Prince George and Surry. There date, ex-president of the state alliance, it is difficult to say whether it would be a Mann Page. His democratic opponent is Dr. M. O. Holt, another prominent alliance man of Surry. Both of these gentlemen are large and popular farmers and are well known throughout the southside part of jority in the city of Petersburg, but if Maj. Page could get a fair support of the republicans his election would be assured. The negro vote is an important element of strength in the district. FOR THE BIG YACHT RACES.

Directions and Regulations of the Regatta Committee. The regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club has issued the sailing directions

Thursday, and also appended the general racing conditions agreed upon by the America's cup committee and Lord Dunraven. They are as follows: General Racing Conditions. The racing rules, time allowance and sys-

The racing rules, time allowance and system of measurement of the New York Yacht Club shall govera, with the proviso that any excess of load water line length over eighty-five feet shall be counted double in calculating the salling length, and also that the load water line length shall not exceed $3.7 feet.

Best three out of five races, outside of headlands, over courses each thirty rautical miles in length, and with a time limit of six hours.

The first, third and fifth races shall be to windward or to leeward and return. The second and fourth races shall be around an equilateral triangle, one leg (and the first, if the wind permit) being to windward.

One day shall intervene between Cach racing day. A race postponed or too finished within the time limit shall be decided before the next race in the scries is taken up.

The races will be started off Sandy Hook light ship, the preparatory signal being made at 11:15 a. m., and the start (from a single gun) at 11:25. But if on the day of a race to windward or leeward the course cannot be laid from the light ship, then the race will be started at about 11:45 from some point further out to sea.

The regatta committee shall have distance of any other professor in Germany. Prof. Klein was commissioned by the German government to attend the mathematical congress held in August at the world's feet mathematical congress held in August at the world's mathematical congress held in August at the world's feet mat cannot be laid from the light ship, then the race will be started at about 11:45 from some point further out to sea.

The regatta committee shall have discretionary power to declare the race off in case of fog. They may also, on account of other weather conditions, postpone the start or declare the race off for the day, provided that both yachts assent. In case of serious accident to either yacht prior to the starting signal, she shall have sufficient time to repair before being required to start. If during a race, she shall have sufficient time to repair before being equired to start in the next race.

Manual power only shall be used in working the competing vessels. Sailing Directions. Start .- The start will be made off Sandy Hook light ship, the preparatory signal being given at 11:15 a. m., and the starting signal at 11:25, except as provided under general racing conditions.

Courses.—No. 1. (Letter B.) From the starting line, to and around a mark fifteen miles to windward, or to leeward, and re-leaving the mark on the starboard No. 2. (Letter T.) From the starting line, a point on the flag ship May, indicated by a white flag, and the mainmast of the light ship, or other stake boat, if the start is made further out to sea. The starting and finish lines will be at right angles with the outward and home courses, respectively.

Compass courses—Will be set on the maintopmast stay before the preparatory signal is made, and will be kept flying until after is made, and will be kept flying until after the start. The signals for course No. 2 must be read beginning forward.

Marks—Will be floats displaying a red flag with white stripe. The position of each float will be indicated by a tug showing a red ball and stationed about one hundred yards beyond. Should a float be wrecked its place will be taken by its marking tug, which will show the club signal in addition to the ball, and in turning the tug the directions for turning the float will govern. Starting signals—Preparatory—A gun will be fired and a red ball hoisted. Signal for the start—Ten minutes later a second gun will be fired and the bail will be dropped.

In case the start is postponed or the starting point is shifted from the light while a preliminary shifted from the light starting point is shifted from the light ship, a preliminary signal will be made by firing a gun and displaying the blue peter at the fore ten minutes before the prepara-tory signal and twenty minutes before the blast of the whistle will be given.

blast of the whistle will be given.

Recall signal—A yacht crossing the line before the starting signal is made will be recalled by a blast of the whistle and the display of her private signal on the fore.

Postponement signal—Letter H—Do you assent to postponing start until later in the day? Letter G—Do you assent to calling race off for the day? If both yachts signify their assent by setting the affirmative signal (letter C), the answering pennant will be hoisted on the May. C G—Race postponed on account of fog. Letter L—The starting point will be shifted out from the light ship.

All signals will be made by club code.
